

Firm Settles Federal Government Contracting Dispute

Robbins Firm associate Matt Parrish recently settled a dispute between a federal government contractor and its subcontractor over almost $1 million in damage to property of the U.S. Treasury occurring as a result of Hurricane Irene in late August 2011. Matt was able to reach a settlement for the client prior to any lawsuit being filed.

For more information, please contact Matt Parrish.