

Robbins Firm Lawyers Secure Victory for Client in $22 Million Breach of Contract Lawsuit

We represented the holder of hundreds of U.S. and European patents in a dispute in which his former business partner and member of European royalty sought $22 million for alleged breach of contract. After two years of hard-fought litigation regarding complex sensor sorting technologies and agreements encompassing dozens of entities, we obtained a dismissal of all claims against our client.

For more information, please contact Alexa Ross.